NEW RULING OF EXCHANGE PUTS STOP TO SHARP PLAY

Transactions Must Involve Minimum Of Shares

"STICKING PRICE"

Plan, Adopted Tentatively, Likely To Stand

BY DAVID ARAKIE
(Financial Editor)

Shares, shares, shares, shares
Moving up and down again:
There's no discharge in law.

This is the one refrain that recurs again and again in the mind of the ordinary man who has attached himself to a Shanghai company, and finds himself carried along by the majority, marching to success or failure—he knows not which. When he becomes a shareholder he is filled with enthusiasm for the great object for which the company was formed, and as the Stock Exchange begins to record selling prices the one thought which fills his mind is the rise of its own stake in the business of the company of which he has become a shareholder.

The movements of stocks and shares on the Stock Exchange are watched carefully by hundreds and, incidentally, are the means of drinking joy or grief to many a man's home.

"STICKING LIST"

It is, therefore, in conformity with the best traditions of the stock-broking fraternity in England and America and also Shanghai that the Committee of the Shanghai Stock Exchange have introduced what is known as a "sticking list." Some brokers—not necessarily share brokers—enjoy the unenviable reputation of having the capacity for "sticking" their clients, but it must be said here straightaway that a "sticking list" signifies an official quotation list.

The practice, it appears, had grown of members bidding to buy and sell certain stocks from or to other members with the object of undermining or boosting certain stocks. The means that could be employed is very simple. A broker might volunteer to sell, for instance, two Cotton shares at, say, Tls. 4.25, when the market is nominal at about Tls. 15, and when the transaction comes to be closed the selling broker would offer 50 shares in this way the stock would be known as having been transacted at Tls. 14.25, and the market gets settled down to this value, although in reality it was a small lot that has brought the value down from a nominal price of Tls. 15 to Tls. 4.25.

The injury must be apparent to any one. The buyer would hold out for Tls. 14, or certainly, in a quiet market, decline to offer anything more than the last price at which they were reported to have been done, and in the course of a few days the Tls. 15 is entirely relegated to the limbo of things that should be forgotten. To large holders this would mean a big loss.

Since January 1 the Committee of the Shanghai Stock Exchange very rightly suggested and have practically agreed that no quotation should in future be treated as "official" unless the transaction covered a certain number of shares with shares listed on the Stock Exchange whose values vary between Tls. 1 and Tls. 1,000 per share the task of defining what should constitute the minimum quantity of shares to be bought or sold is certainly not easy, but the mere fact that the Committee have realised the importance of imposing restrictions on bidding on the Exchange is an appreciation on their part of their responsibilities to the general investing and also speculating public of Shanghai.

The scheme for price sticking introduced on January 1 was tentative and it seems to have worked quite well, and will, no doubt, soon become a standing rule on the Exchange, if it is not so at present.

MODIFIED SOMEWHAT

Since then it had to be modified for it was found that on certain stocks the arrangement was not admirable. On Tuesday last the "sticking list" on small shares was reduced from Tls. 1,000 to Tls. 500, and in this respect it covers the rubber shares, the values of a good

SANITARY DAIRY OWNER ACCUSED OF ADULTERATION

Declares Others Must Be Using His Trademarks

Another adulterated milk case came before the Mixed Court yesterday when Sung Koh-tsung, proprietor of the Sanitary Dairy, was charged before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui.

Mr. R. A. E. Denton testified that he had been a customer of the dairy for two years and a few days ago he took one of the sealed bottles delivered and turned it over to the Health Department, where it was analysed and found to be adulterated.

The defendant protested that there must be some mistake. He had only been running the dairy since the seventh moon of last year—a fact which the Health Department verified—and Mr. Denton was not on the books as a customer. He only employed five delivery coolies, the defendant said, and he asked that Mr. Denton try and identify his delivery man. It was defendant's theory that someone was using his dairy' seals and trademark.

The Assessor remarked that his case seemed to be one in which further investigations should be made, so it was adourned one week.

Threats Of Arson Frighten Senator

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Dublin, Feb. 6.—The resignation of Dr. George Sigerson as a member of the Free State Senate following recent threats to burn down his home has been announced.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 6.—Incendiaries in Dublin this morning burned down the offices of the cinematographers, Pathe Freres.

Four armed men imprisoned the staff of five girls and one man in an upstairs room and sprinkled the premises with petrol. The building was soon a roaring furnace.

The employes, the girls screaming, escaped through the flames but five of them and two passers-by were injured by the explosion of a bomb.

It is surmised that the outrage was due to the exhibition in Dublin of a film of the Irish Air Force.

No Crops For 3 Years, Shansi Faces Famine; Help Urgently Needed

International Relief Society Issues Stirring Appeal For Aid; Conditions In Afflicted Districts Described; 350,000 People Involved

Note—The International Society for Famine Relief in Hotung, Yuncheng and Shansi has issued an appeal for help for the 350,000 people in those districts who are starving on account of famine. In this appeal the true conditions prevailing in the stricken communities are set forth, together with an explanation of the causes of the famine and an account of the relief methods that are under way. The committee urges immediate and substantial relief.

THE CHINA PRESS will be glad to forward to the proper relief workers any contributions that are made by its readers.

Following is the appeal issued by the relief committee:

The province of Shansi has an area of about 81,000 square miles, with a population of 11 millions, which is about 130 persons to the square mile. The country is very mountainous and arid and unproductive. Shansi, however, is said to be the most peaceful and the most progressive province in China today. Travellers are very rarely molested and it is known that the people are not oppressed by the officials. The Governor is known as the model Tuchun of China.

CAUSES OF FAMINE

Fortunately it is only the south-western section of the province that we need refer to. This however comprises twenty odd government districts, covering an area of about 150 miles long by 75 miles wide, with a population of over one and a half million. Today, it may be stated, one-fifth of this population are starving, and we are only just entering on the famine days.

The immediate cause of the present famine is a continuous drought throughout the whole year of 1922. The spring crop of wheat harvested in that year was about two-tenths of a normal crop, while the autumn crop was also a failure, only three-tenths of normal harvest. The wheat planted in the autumn of 1922 for harvesting this spring amounts to only one-tenth of the area usually sown. And only in some places did that come up (owing to insufficient moisture to sprout it even).

The little that germinated is now dying away because there is not enough rain or snow to save it. Other fields are left uncultivated. Grass is not growing anywhere, even the roots are drying, so that animal fodder is also short. No magic in the world can now bring food out of the ground until the middle of this year 1923, and should the drought not break, nothing can be planted for gathering even then. Meanwhile suffering and hunger will increase.

This area went through a partial famine in the years 1920-21 and owing to the influx of famine stricken refugees flocking from other provinces, the people's reserves of grain were much exhausted. Now, before the farmers have been able to collect sufficient for reserves the present famine comes down upon the poor people, this time for practically three harvests so far. And they are not able to obtain sufficient foodstuffs to supply their needs from the more prosperous districts near them, because the famine of 1920-21 cleared out stocks in these places also. So now the price of grain and of flour is soaring.

Around these latitudes famine is constantly recurring. For instance, in the years 1876-79, we are told that about one-third of the population here died of starvation. The farmers in this neighborhood live in caves, cut out of loess soil. Finding themselves, in the years 78-79, without food and without the prospect of obtaining any, they entombed themselves in their caves, so as to save their bodies from being eaten by the dogs, and in this manner whole families died together, in the caves where they were born and had lived.

The country had been so very much reduced in population about here that the Chinese Government aided emigrants from other provinces to come and settle on the lands. And it now looks as if—unless these families are aided by you—they will have to follow the lead of their predecessors.

ANIMALS SOLD

Already the greater part of their animals have been sold and driven off to more productive regions. When the time comes to sow the grain, it is difficult to imagine what method of planting will have to be adopted, because these people are too poor to own machinery. They are already feeding off the fodder reserved for their animals, by making it into bran cakes, millet husk cakes and such like. Roots are being dug up for food, but this will not last, because the roots are also drying up.

Many people who were able to get away have closed their doors

MORE TONIGHT

George Mugge, Of Maxim's, And Mrs. Lenard, Billed

Tonight's Radio Program

The musical program to be broadcasted from XRO—THE CHINA PRESS-Radio Corporation of China station on top of the Dollar building at 3 Canton Road—tonight will be as follows:

News bulletins broadcasted by THE CHINA PRESS.

Request phonograph selections played at the request of amateurs 'listening in.'

VOCAL SOLOS

By Mrs. Elizabeth Lenard of New York, accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Chapman on the piano:

"Sunset" (Dudley Buck)
"Thora" (Stephen Adams)
"Train To, Poppyland" (Gottschalk)

CORNET SOLOS

By Mr. George Mugge of Maxim's Cafe Orchestra, accompanied by Mr. Frank Blackinger, Maxim's new pianist:

"Caribee"
"I'm Through."

Tune in at 8 o'clock.

Over 1,000 radio fans in Shanghai listened to one of the best musical treats that has been accorded them in many moons, either on the radio or elsewhere, last night when the Palace Hotel Trio dispensed a program of classical music and Captain H. L. Gallup, Shanghai's latest vocal discovery, sang.

And tonight another program equally as good will be broadcasted from THE CHINA PRESS-Radio Corporation of China station on the roof of the Dollar building when Mrs. Elizabeth Lenard, noted New York singer, gives three of her best selections, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. W. B. Chapman. Her vocal selections will be supplemented by two cornet solos by Mr. George Mugge, one of the stars of the Maxim orchestra. Mr. Mugge will be accompanied by Mr. Frank Blackington, the Maxim pianist, and it may be that he can be induced to play a piano solo or two.

Last night's program was received by all the receiving sets—growing in number every day—with the utmost clarity, and a number of amateurs telephoned after the concert. They were especially pleased with a violin solo by Mr. Heyes.

CAPT. GALLUP SINGS

Captain Gallup, who was the first on last night's program sang "The Song of Hybrias The Cretan," (J. W. Elliott) and "I Love You Truly" (Carrie Jacobs Bond). Captain Gallup has an extremely powerful voice and singing for the radio last night made his first 'appearance' in public although he entertained many of his flying buddies many nights overseas.

He was especially at home singing "I Love You Truly" and delighted the small crowd at the broadcasting station as well as the large number of 'listeners in.' Captain Gallup's voice is beautifully clear and deep and with further training under proper instructors his possibilities are unlimited. Captain Gallup is a 'find' of Mr. Bertie Heyes.

HEYES PLAYS

Mr. Bertie Heyes, violinist and leader of the Palace Hotel Trio, and one of the really expert exponents of classical music in Shanghai, played a violin solo last night which was heard as distinctly at though the listeners were in the same room, even to the extreme high notes. The solo, "Thais" (Massenet) was a distinct 'hit' with the radio fans.

In concluding the program the Palace Hotel Trio played two excellent numbers—"Serenade" by Schubert and "Czardas" by Monti. In both numbers they were enthusiastically 'encored' via wireless by Shanghai's fans and music

END ASSAULT CASE AGAINST CARL GUNTHER

Allege Man "Beat Up" Chinese Newspaperman At Post Office

The case in which Mr. Carl Gunther is charged with having assaulted Mr. Walter Chen, a Chinese newspaperman, was concluded in the United States Court for China yesterday when the last witnesses were heard and the counsel summed up the evidence.

The first witness called was Mr. Lo Yu-shing, postmaster of the Chinese Post Office in Szechuen Road. Mr. Lo testified that he saw Mr. Gunther strike Mr. Chen at the post office. Mr. Gunther struck the first blow, he said.

A ricsha coolie employed by Mr. Chen was next called and testified that Chen had been assaulted in the manner described by other witnesses.

Mr. Gunther next took the stand in his own defense. He said he was 50 years old and had been a resident of Shanghai since 1892. On December 11, he said, he went to the post office and while posting letters was jostled by Mr. Chen and called several vile names. He did not strike Chen, he said.

DENIES CHARGE

Mr. Gunther denied that he had called Chen a 'dirty pig' and also denied that he had struck him. "Chen struck me," he declared. All through his evidence he asserted that he had not struck anyone, but that on the contrary he had been struck several times.

Acting District Attorney C. P. Holcomb asked Mr. Gunther if he had ever seen a Chinese attack a foreigner in the streets as he described he had been attacked. Mr. Gunther replied in the affirmative, citing the Boxer trouble and the riots in 1905 and 1907. He also said he had seen American sailors being beaten and robbed by Chinese. Last year, Mr. Gunther said, he had been attacked in his own home by a Chinese with an axe. The Chinese had been sentenced to two years in jail by the Mixed Court, he said.

Major Holcomb then asked Mr. Gunther a series of rapid-fire questions in which he asked how many times Gunther had been in jail before for assaulting Chinese and citing specific cases in which he indicated Gunther had been involved. Gunther denied all the charges with the exception of one in which he admitted he had served 25 days in the American jail for assaulting a Chinese policeman.

Palace Trio Broadcasts Music By Radiophone lovers. In the fast "Czardas" movement Mr. Bertie Heyes' ability with the violin was especially evident and even his extraordinary technique seemingly followed the music notes out into the other. The Trio, which is composed of Mr. Bertie Heyes, violin; Mr. Len Heyes, cello, and Mr. Z. Jary, piano, plays in the Palace lobby every afternoon at tea time and in the dining rooms during meals.

TONIGHT'S TREAT

Mrs. Elizabeth Lenard, who is the feature of tonight's program, is one of the most famous of New York's mezzo-contraltos. For many years she was soloist at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City, one of the city's most famous and most fashionable houses or worship, and has become extremely well known in American musical circles because of her oratorio work under the Damrosch's in various American cities.

In addition to her own signing Mrs. Lenard has the unique distinction of being the founder and leader of a choral society composed of 90 women in Ridgewood, New Jersey, a suburb of New York, which has been extraordinarily successful under her guidance.

Tonight Mrs. Lenard will sing several songs which have marked her as an extremely able singer including Buck's "Sunset," Adams' "Thora," and Gottschalk's "Train To Poppyland." A number of ladies who heard Mrs. Lenard sing at the meeting of the Shanghai Missionary Association on Tuesday will 'listen in' on the radiophone when she sings tonight in a test of the clarity and truthful production of the voice and piano by wireless.

Mrs. Lenard will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. W. R. Chapman, well known to Shanghai music lovers.

Mr. George Mugge, the cornet wizard with the famous jazz band at Maxim's Cafe, will play two cornet solos on tonight's radio program—"Caribee," and "I'm Through." In both solos he will be accompanied by Mr. Frank Blackinger, former pianist at the Manila Hotel and in the Army and Navy Club orchestra there. He is the now the pianist at the popular downtown dance place.

Mr. Mugge is reputed to be one of, if not the best, cornetist ever to play in Shanghai and as cornet playing was proven to be extremely well "transmittable" at one of the first radio concerts here when Mr. George Warn played, radio fans have a real treat in store for them tonight.

In addition to the musical numbers The China Press will broadcast news bulletins and request phonograph selections will be given.

To Produce 'The Messiah' At The Cathedral Soon

Rehearsals were started yesterday afternoon for the production of The Messiah which is to be given at the Holy Trinity Cathedral at a date in March not yet definitely fixed.

Mr. R. C. Young, the Cathedral organist, is directing the performance and within the near future will organise a chorus of 80 voices for the production. Several of the leading singers of Shanghai have been selected for the solo parts. It is expected that the Municipal Orchestra will support the Cathedral organ in the presentation.

"Yellow Jacket" Tea Room To Open Today

"The Yellow Jacket," a novel adventure in tea and tiffin rooms, will open this afternoon at 4 o'clock at 17 Nanking Road when tea will be served for the first time by Miss Jessie B. Love, Miss Christine England and Miss Grace Bean, former nurses at Dr. Fearn's Hospital.

"The Yellow Jacket"—you turn in at 17 Nanking Road and walk right up stairs—has been designed to cater to Shanghailanders who like home-cooking as Miss Bean and Miss England will fix all the tarts and toast and cakes while Miss Love sees that the folks get enough good things to eat.

In keeping with the name the color scheme of the new tea room is yellow and black with appropriate China, decorated wicker tables and chairs and a big 'comfy' fireplace—cosy and yet plenty of room for all.

Boy Choristers Break Notable Cathedral Record

Because of the outbreak of measles which necessitated closing down the Cathedral School for Boys the famous boy choristers of Holy Trinity Cathedral will not take part in the services on Sunday for the first time in over 20 years.

The school was ordered closed down on advice of the medical advisor for 16 days. Five of the youngsters have the measles. The men's choir will carry out the usual choral program.

Good Time Had When Beef Steak Clubites Meet

Wah-hoo!

The Beef Steak Club held one of its monthly sessions on Tuesday night at the Astor House men's grill. The news is somewhat late in being circulated as a 'good time was had by all.'

The Beef Steak Club, for the benefit of the uninitiated, is composed of sixty Americans who gather together now and then under the urge of friendly spirits and devour beef steaks and all the fixin's with great gusto. On Tuesday night they were the guests of Mr. 'Dinty' Moore, manager of the Astor, who turned the rathskellar over to the beefsteakers and decorated it to suit the occasion.

Mr. James J. Rogers, who presided as chief mogul, was presented with an imported sceptor of office, which was used with great effect when Mr. Harold Dollar made the only address allowed on the occasion. 63 Calls Breaks All Fire Records

All Shanghai fire records were broken during December when the Municipal department was called out 63 times, according to the monthly report of Acting Chief Officer J. Gordon Dyson, published in today's Municipal Gazette. It is the largest number of calls ever received in one month.

Of the calls 55 were genuine fires of which 48 were in the Settlement. The damage on property in the Settlement amounted to Tls. 43,095 while the property risk amounted to Tls. 1,528,850. Three lives were lost and four persons injured. In addition 1 officer and six men were injured when a truck had an accident en route to a fire.

Three Are Charged For Having Weapons

Three Chinese, two of them believed to be members of a gang of thugs which engaged in a pistol battle with police in the Central district Monday night, when two of the band were injured, appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday charged with being in possession of a revolver and ammunition.

The men were arrested by Detective Inspector Cruickshank at 397 Wuchow Road. The second accused, D. I. Cruickshank said, had been identified by a Chinese policeman as one of the men in the gang engaging in the pistol duel, and the third accused was also believed to have been with them. The case was remanded two weeks to allow further investigation.

No Crops For 3 Years, Shansi Faces Famine

and gone off to more prosperous parts, where they hope to be able to obtain work and food to tide over the time until the famine days have passed.

During the past months, food prices have so soared, that today the cost of wheat is four hundred percent of normal figures. Price of bread (steamed bread is the ordinary food of the Shansi people) is now four hundred percent of normal times. Fodder prices have also advanced at the same rate. What prices will be in the months to come it is difficult to say. As the days go on the grain will have to come to from greater distances, because sellers—from whom they are getting grain now—will be having to consider themselves and hold sufficient for the use of their own people. They are now only disposing of the additional crop gathered since the famine in 1920-21. If we had money we could now buy grain in transport and store it, then sell it at a small loss, and so prevent present holders from profiteering.

For this reason we beg for an early response to our appeal.

RELIEF WORK

Irrigation: The water to be obtained about here from ordinary wells is too hard to germinate seed, but it keeps the soil moist. Wheat planted in the soil, even though it does not sprout, will not quickly spoil in it, and if the rain comes within reasonable time, the grain will grow. Irrigation from such water therefore will not help much under the present drought. The hills are bare, so the rain water quickly sheds itself, washing the soft loess earth with it into the Yellow River. It does not have time to soak well into the earth. Everywhere is to be seen ravines, from 80 to about 300 feet deep, the earth from which has been all washed into the river, and out to the sea. Sometimes silting up the river bed on its way and causing floods in other provinces.

Deep Wells: The quantity of water to be obtained for purposes of irrigation, by sinking deep wells would hardly warrant such expenditure. Diversion of streams from the hills to the plains would also be expensive, although it would be effective in some parts. This work however would not employ much inexperienced labor. Besides, such work would meet with opposition from the villagers. This kind of work must therefore be left to the Chinese Government to undertake.

Road Construction: It is known from experience that Road Construction is the best form of relief work for these parts, because it is the kind of labor which will give work to the farm hands now idle. Roads about here are in a very poor condition, mere tracks over the country, worn down by traffic and by scouring much below the level of the land. In the rainy seasons these—so-called roads—become drains for the land. In the wet weather, carts passing over them travel in ruts a foot or so deep, ploughing up the mud, or sometimes the mud is up to the axles. It is painful to see the poor animals hauling these carts, straining and floundering in the mud.

Any improvement of these roads benefits the agricultural population of the neighborhood, since smaller teams of animals are required to haul produce over a good road than over a bad one. Therefore given the money, there is plenty of work to be found for all ablebodied men requiring work, to be sent on the roads near their own homes.

Industrial Work: During the last famine the Committee had a large number of women working on cotton spinning. They were given quantities of cotton to make into yarn. Given the money work can be found for all and many local industrial methods can be undertaken for women.

FOOD KITCHEN

Among the destitute are aged persons and women and children unable to work. Some by reason of age, others because of infirmities. Some are without relatives because their men have gone off to other parts in hopes of being able to get work, others by force of circumstances. Many such will not be able to work in return for relief, but all must be fed. We hope to be in a position to open up food kitchens in order to relieve these people.

Government Aid: The provincial officials are promising government assistance. The season of the famine has been divided into three periods by the officials. The first period the people of each village are expected to assist their own poor, the second period this relief is to be undertaken by the officials of the District. The third period the whole province will be called upon to provide for the starving.

How the district officials will be in a position to maintain their starving thousands, it is difficult to see. And when it comes to the time for the provincial officials to procure grain for the hundreds of thousands of hungry people in the province one cannot imagine how the scheme will work. But it is certain that they will surely do all within their power, also that they will require all outside assistance they can get. This is what we appeal to you for. Give us funds so that we who are on the spot may be in a position to co-operate with the provincial officials and help them to feed the 350,000 starving people.

With the experience of the 1920-21 famine, which many of our present committee have gone through helping the people, we know that the grain reserve will be very little indeed. Money is required to purchase from distant parts what grain it is possible to get and transport it to the needy places. We therefore ask for help now so as to enable us to gather in supplies before the prices, now already so inflated, rise higher.

APPEAL

We appeal for help from all who are able to spare a little in order to save this peace-loving, hard-working, twice famine stricken people from starvation! To save women and children from being sold into slavery or worse. To save the present generation from the fate of their predecessors in '78/19.

An International Relief Society has been formed for the purpose of collecting and handling relief, and to supplement the work of the provincial Government. It consists of the following gentlemen:

Chinese—President, Mr. Tsui Ting-hsien, Taoyin of Hotung Circuit; honorary president, Mr. Ting Pei-yu, salt commissioner; Colonel Feng Yu-peng, military officer of Hotung Circuit; treasurer, Mr. Shu Wei-yung, acting district inspector; vice-treasurer, Mr. Chu Fang; secretary, Mr. Tsai Lun and Messrs. Chao Hung-chu, Feng Han-ching, Wang Han-ching, Tung Chen-ju, Chia Ting-hsien, Hsien Wan-ching, Cui Tien-cheng, Chou Chen-nan, Cheng Yu-yu.

Foreign—Vice-president, Mr. C. Blom, Swedish Mission; Mr. G. Baldwin, district inspector of Salt Revenue, also acting as foreign secretary; treasurer, Rev. J. T. Sandberg, Swedish Mission; Rev. D. Landin, Swedish Mission; Father M. Schilte.

Control of funds will be in the hands of the Treasurers. The appropriation of funds must first receive the approval of the Committee in opening meeting before it is carried into effect.

Accounts of expenditure will be rendered to any Society giving money into our hands for Famine Service. Subscriptions to the International Society for Famine Relief in Hotung may be addressed to Rev. J. T. Sandberg, Swedish Mission, Yucheng, Shansi, China.

Ludendorff Told To Get Out Of Vienna

many of them being round about one tael each, and an ordinary small investor is often not inclined to invest in more than five hundred shares. The reasonableness of this concession is obvious.

For the information of many who do not know the inner working of the Shanghai Stock Exchange, it may be mentioned that every morning the members hold at 9.30 an auction, when buyers and sellers offer or buy their requirements. Now that the "sticking list" is in force any attempt on the part of any member to create any semblance of an artificial rate will fail. If a broker makes a quotation at this morning auction and says he will buy Ewos at Tls. 15 he must take 500 shares. Five hundred shares is the minimum as well in the case of Oriental cotton shares, while with Shanghai Docks, New Engineering, and some other stocks the limit is fifty shares. The list is graded and as announced by the Committee to the members is a very fair one.

CLIENT'S SMALL ORDERS

The new order does not affect broker's constituents, who can buy through their brokers smaller quantities than the "sticking list" calls for. In short, for a broker to record a transaction at the Exchange it must answer the requirements of the new rule.

A similar "sticking list" practice obtains in Hongkong, although the Shanghai body claims to have introduced it themselves long ago. It is stated that this scheme for curbing price bidding was a recognised rule on the local Exchange but in the course of years, when business was booming and everybody bought and sold large quantities of shares, it ceased to be enforced. To whomsoever the palm really belongs is immaterial. It is well that the Hongkong and Shanghai Stock Exchanges should now be working in conformity on a similar ideal. More power to them.

Council Refuses To Pay Employes Medical Bill

The Municipal Council has decided that the Council cannot pay the fees for medical attendance and an operation incurred by a Municipal employe (or member of his family) while in England, according to the current Municipal Gazette.

The report does not give names or details, but gives the decision of the Council that such payment was never intended and no exception to the rule would be made.

BRIBERY CHARGE AGAINST COURT ATTACHE DROPPED

Mixed Court Employe Put Under $500 Security

The charge of bribery brought against Young Ching-sung, a ling o'hai of the Mixed Court alleged to have accepted two promissory notes for Tls. 3,000 for transmission to another Court attache in connection with a civil case, was dropped for the time being yesterday by Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui.

When the case was called Detective Inspective Cruickshank stated that he was not prepared to go on with it. It would take a considerable time to get at the root of the matter, which branched in all directions.

The Assessor said the Court did not want undue suspicion to rest upon the accused. There was not sufficient evidence to proceed with the matter at present and the accused would be put on $500 security so that he might be called when needed.

Ill Treatment Of Prisoner Is Charged In Case

Allegations of brutal treatment of a prisoner by the police were made at the Mixed Court yesterday when a coolie was charged with theft of $740 and a £5 note from Police Constable Gavan of Hongkew Station.

The case came up before Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh and Mr. Alexander Ting appeared for the defendant. Police testimony was to the effect that P. C. Gavan left the money in his trousers pocket when he went to bed the night of the 4th and in the morning it was gone. The servant, employed by Detective Inspector Prosser, that morning announced that he was going to quit and on suspicion was questioned. He admitted taking $400, the police stated, but later denied this statement.

Mr. Ting called the attention of the Court to the condition of the defendant's face, which was badly bruised and swollen. He had been given a medical attention and counsel asked leave to present the certificate secured.

The Court brought up the point that the coolie had been arrested on the 5th but had not been brought to court until yesterday, and asked the police why this was so. The reply was that inquiries were being made. The Assessor condemned such a procedure and said that the prisoner should have been brought to court as soon as possible, when a remand could have been granted if further inquiries were necessary.

In dismissing the case the Assessor stated that no court could possibly convict a man on the evidence presented and that he wanted it on record that the police acted wrongly in not bringing the defendant up before.

Mr. Ting asked the Court to take up the matter of the defendant's treatment, but the Court held that this was not its province and said that counsel had his remedy if he chose to take action.

The announcement of liquidation by the Shanghai Industrial Banking Corporation has today caused certain unfounded rumors to circulate among the native banking community, even affecting some prominent Chinese banks here. The Shanghai Industrial Banking corporation, situated at 17-18 Kiukiang Road, was established in 1921 and has never been admitted to the Shanghai Bankers' Association. Because of its isolation from the member banks of the Association, the effect of its liquidation is rather immaterial to the banking community. Russian Woman, Wed To Filipino, Ends Her Life

A Russian woman named Josephine Saes, married to a Filipino whose name is unknown at the present time, committed suicide sometime Tuesday night by swallowing a quantity of strychnine.

The body was found in the woman's rooms at 26 Tracy Terrace, off Route de Soeurs, on Wednesday morning. The bottle which had contained the poison was beside her. No reason for her act is known.

Details concerning the dead woman or her act are meager but more information is expected to be secured at the inquest which will be conducted in the United States for China by American Coroner Nelson B. Lurton, and a jury of Americans at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The French police, under Inspector Sidaine, are working on the case.

JOHNSON TAKES GAME FROM BUSH

Billiard Champion Has Little Trouble Beating Thirty Club Star

SCORE IS 800-475

Porter Meets de Campos In Big Game This Evening

FOR BILLIARD FANS

SENIOR GAMES TONIGHT

Porter vs de Campos at the American Club.

Phillips vs Gibson at the French Club.

Price vs Wootten at the French Club.

JUNIOR MATCH

G. D. Nichol vs P. Pereira at the French Club.

RESULTS TO DATE

SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Johnson 800 vs Bush 475
Barrett 800 vs Hawkins 554

JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Maggs 400 vs Rosenfeld 169
Wignall 400 vs Divecha 303

Mr. R. C. K. Johnson, champion billiard player of Shanghai, started his fight to retain the title last night in impressive style, beating Mr. E. D. Bush 325 points in a game that drew a good attendance at the Marine Engineers' Institute.

The match means the elimination of Bush from the battle for the crown and incidentally it is the first time that he has been retired so early. In five years here Bush has been twice in the semi-final and twice in the final game for the championship.

Then Johnson came, with his wonderful losing hazard in the middle pocket—and Bush was eliminated. Last night's score was 800 to 475, about the margin of supremacy manifested by the winner. Bush is a crack player, with a great assortment of shots, many of them beautiful efforts. But he was opposed by an artist at the George Gray game. Slide in off the red or white in the side pocket and then bring the ball back for the repeat. This game last night enabled him to hang up a remarkable playing record in the before-dinner session.

AVERAGE OF 28

In fourteen visits to the table, Johnson marked up 308 points, an astonishing average of 28 3-7. The feat was performed after he had totalled but two points in first five trips as he and Bush fenced for position. The champion said he was nervous for the first hundred but it must have disappeared for while he was making 400 points in 59 minutes he recorded breaks of 81, 59, 48, 47, 43 and 36 and averaged 22 counters a visit.

After dinner he was not so stylist. He tried hard to maintain the high mark, too, but failed and his game at the second session was nothing compared to his showing in the afternoon. Johnson made an average of 17 in a championship game last year, this being far better than anything previous. He had 22 for a start yesterday afternoon but the second 400 dragged the average to 13.33, the title holder going to the table 60 times. Bush made 59 trips and averaged 7.8 points, Johnson's average after dinner was 10.2.

Bush had loads of hard luck. But Johnson was ever better. Bush made some beautiful shots but he did not have control of the balls and was often careless, while Johnson plugged along to a consistently brilliant game, snatching 54, 45, 38 and 32 breaks at the night session. The best Bush marked were 39, 35 and 32. Johnson finished his second 400 in an hour and 20 minutes.

FIRST HALF, 400-187

The champion made his first four centuries while his opponent was aggregating 187 and started with a 32 break as an after-dinner opening. Scoring was slow and misses frequent, however, until Johnson got a 54, the break halting when he missed an easy pot shot. This was as he passed the 500 point and he was then 298 in the lead. Johnson got his 600 shortly after a run of 39 brought Bush's score to 347 and the latter was 302 behind at the end of an hour's play when Johnson had 723 and Bush, 421. Bush made 32, Johnson retorted with 38 and hopped up to 778 when the boy marked 475 against the name of Bush.

AMERICAN CO. IN PISTOL FIGHT WITH SPECIALS

A match has been arranged to take place between the American Company and the American Police Specials on Monday, March 12. Five men a side and conditions to be arranged by Messrs. Fairbairn and Leighton. American Company men will practise at the Gordon Road Police Range every Wednesday and Friday until the day of the competition.

The following are out to make places on the S.V.C. side.

Sauer	Burgess
Twogood	Williams
Jenkins	Hall
Hutchinson	Holt
Langley	Squires
Canda	Varney
Neal	Taylor

Sergt. Langley is vice-captain of the team.

As soon as the competition is completed, it is proposed to form a class in pistol shooting giving all members of the Company an opportunity to become proficient in handling the pistol.

All desirous of joining such a class are requested to give their name to Lieutenant Sauer.

son ran out, making 23 unfinished.

Secretary Wiley of the Institute arranged seats so that a number of fans could watch the game and both players voted the table perfect.

Those who saw last night's match figure Johnson to hold his crown and the game this afternoon and this evening at the American Club will probably determine his opponent.

PORTER AND CAMPOS

C. W. Porter, champion for several years and runner-up last year to Johnson, will meet J. P. de Campos, the Portuguese crack at 5:30 o'clock and 9 o'clock, in two sessions, each of 400 points. This game should be a battle as Porter is not at the top of his form, according to the advance dope, and Campos has improved much since a year ago when he lost to Johnson in the semi-final by but 60 points.

Gerry Wootten, a newcomer to the billiard title scrap, plays J. W. Prince at the French Club this afternoon and evening while Harry Gibson plays R. P. Phillipps, also at the Cercle Sportif.

Captain Barrett, regarded as a dangerous player this year, went into the second round by his defeat of W. Hawkins and meets Johnson next. Barrett got his 800 while Hawkins was chalking 554.

JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Julius Rosenfeld was beaten in the junior championship at the Masonic Club last night by L. G. Maggs of the Customs. Rosenfeld had an off night and failed to break 20, getting but 169 while Maggs was reaching 400. The latter's big run was 47. A. S. Wignall defeated M. J. Divecha, a margin of 95 points.

One game in the junior championship will be played tonight at the French Club when G. D. Nichol

FINE PROGRAM AGAIN SEEN AT TOWN HALL

Martinoff Stars But Nearly Loses Bout To Italian Wrestler

A second excellent program, happily much better attended than the first, was put on at the Town Hall last night under the auspices of the Russian Co-Operative Society in behalf of the workless Russian refugees.

A couple of snappy boxing bouts, some good wrestling—the final match was a whizz, well worth the admission alone—and exhibitions of strength and muscular development by Martinoff and Bauman provided three hours of solid entertainment. Congratulations are in order for Mr. Parkes.

The stellar numbers of the evening were the ten-round clash between Carlson and "Baby" Siemssen, which had to go an extra round before being declared a draw, and the wind-up event—with Martinoff and Pogello wrestling twenty minutes, also to a draw.

In the first bout Johanson replaced Caponi and took some grueling treatment at the hands of Stoker Phillips during the four rounds. Johanson made a game showing, however, and thereby won the cup offered by Mr. Glemby for the "best loser" of the evening.

In the second even Stoker Atkinson replaced Mercado and lost to Jesu of the S.A.B.C. in six fast rounds. The men are bantam weights.

BOUT IS HUMMER

The lightweight item, that involving Carlson and Siemssen was a hummer from start to finish. Carlson seemed to be getting the better of it on points but the matter was so close that at the close of the tenth frame Referee Llewellyn Jones announced an extra session. The boys tore into each other at a great pace, with the result that when the gong went both were wobbling and a snappy punch by either, if he could have got his hands up would have made it decisive. As it was the referee diagnosed it as all even, and the decision was popularly received.

Martinoff, the human pile-driver, steam roller and what not in the crushing line, went through another of his hair-raising programs. Having toyed with enough truck material to equip most of the rolling stock on the Shanghai-Nanking Railroad, he tossed it lightly aside and proceeded to tear up two packs of playing cards, rip a silver dollar in half and pound a few eight-penny nails through a board with his fist. He then twisted up a lot of good steel bars, lifted sixteen men off the floor in the aggregate and let a couple of octettes try and pull his arms apart after fastening a rope to each wing.

WRESTLING IS GOOD

In the wrestling affrays Burmister (Esthonia) took his match from Vassilief (Russia) after 13½ minutes of strenuous tussling. A full nelson turned the trick.

Bauman, Swedish champion, made rather short work of Sorokin (Russia), the struggle not lasting out the first ten minute period. Bauman went at things in strenuous style.

The final match, that between Martinoff and Pogello was the event of the night, and had the crowd almost standing on the seats at times. Martinoff's weight was announced at 300 and that of Pogello as 180. The lighter man couldn't get his arms about the big strong man, but he put up a fight which won him rounds of applause. Time after time it seemed as though the mammoth Russian must force his opponent's shoulders to the mat through sheer brute strength, but Pogello always squirmed out of it, and even tossed Martinoff handily about more than once. On points he won the bout.

Trophies presented by Messrs. Shepherd, Woods, Mrs. Spunt, Beatty, Harvey and Deeks and Glemby were presented by Captain Barrett to the winners of the various events in the tournament. Captain Barrett heartily congratulated Mr. Parkes on the success of the show.

A TELEGRAPHIST'S DILEMMA.

The work of a telegraphist is often very trying to the nerves, especially when much night work has to be done. It was because he had a great deal of night work in the Government Telegraph Office at Mandalay, Burma, that Mr. C. L. Francis suffered a nervous breakdown. How Dr. Williams' pink pills—the blood and nerve tonic with a thirty years' world-wide reputation—revitalised his nerves and restored his health and strength Mr. Francis relates thus:

"My work, which entails much night duty, has always been most trying, but I strove to cope with it, ignoring the danger of a breakdown until the harm occurred. Then I had to give up work altogether and was confined to bed. Physicians examined me and gave me prescriptions, but I continued to suffer from constant headaches, and from a heavy feeling that was not sleepiness for I could not enjoy a good sleep. My nerves were unstrung, I was irritable and felt weak and miserable. All enjoyment seemed to be gone from my life.

"My brother-in-law, Mr. T. D. Paul, who had himself been cured by Dr. Williams' pink pills, recommended me to try that medicine. I felt reluctant to do so, for constant failures had made me despair of being cured. However, on his insisting I took his advice.

"My scepticism soon turned to belief for almost from the first bottle of Dr. Williams' pink pills I noticed an improvement in my health. And as I continued with their use I shook off the nervous disorder, and what had been an ever-present headache vanished. Now I eat well, sleep well and work well. From a sick bed back to health and strength—that is what Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people have done for me."

As a remedy for diseases arising from impure weak blood or disordered nerves, such as anaemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, skin complaints and women's special aches and ills, Dr. Williams' pink pills are pre-eminent. Dealers everywhere sell them, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, $8 for six from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Bank Manager In Mixed Court On Lottery Charge

Charged with being concerned in a lottery scheme, the manager of the National Commercial Bank appeared before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui of the Mixed Court yesterday.

The defendant was represented by Mr. W. S. Feming and Mme. Flora Rosemberg, who asked a remand in order to prepare their case. The defense contends that the bank was not engaged with a lottery but was offering the public savings bonds which had been sanctioned by the Chinese government.

Mr. Fleming asked that his client be not put in the dock. He was a man of very good standing, counsel said, and his co-director was the Governor of Anwei. The case was remanded.

C.M.S. Co. Has Big Year At Hankow

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Feb. 3.—The China Merchants Steam Navigation Company in Hankow has just recorded a banner year in their freight trade in 1922. In spite of keen competition in the port among shipping companies which have grown in number during the year, the China Merchants Company had during that year 35 percent of the bulk of freight from this port.

Mr. Allan H. Y. Sze, the second son of Mr. Sze Shao-tseng, Director General of the China Merchants Company and formerly Director-General of the Lunghai Railway, is in charge of the Hankow branch of the China Merchants as Managing Director, and his untiring efforts at improving the management and business of the company at this port has much to do with the phenomenal growth of the Company. Mr. Sze Shao-tseng is brother to Dr. Alfred Sze, the Minister of Foreign Affairs in

LOCAL FINANCIAL INTERESTS GIVE VIEWS ON LOANS

On the subject of China's foreign and domestic loans the following telegram from The Shanghai Chamber of Commerce, The Shanghai Bankers' Association and the Shanghai Native Bankers' Association, has been addressed to the Minister of Finance at Peking:

"The Minister of Finance, Peking:

"As stated in the memorandum recently published by Sir Francis Aglen, inspectorate-General of Customs, it requires twenty-four million dollars-odd to meet all obligations due in 1923 to the consolidated loan service.

"Total receipts for 1923 in the form of estimated increase from revised tariff, $10,000,000, and customs surplus, $7,300,000, together with balance carried forward from last year, $2,700,000, are still short of $4,200,000, even if all these receipts are set aside for the consolidated loan service.

"Without taking into consideration the established priority of consolidated loan service and 96 million dollar loan, Government is said to have already earmarked increased customs receipts for various administrative expenses to the extent of $15,000,000, leaving a net deficit of $17,200,000 for the consolidated loan service. Not to say that nothing is available for 96 million dollar loan, even consolidated loan obligations cannot be met in full.

"As these bonds hove been circulating in the market far and wide, any interference with the consolidated loan reserves would cause ruin to many bondholders with far reaching bad effect on the financial and commercial community at large. Knowing that you are desirous of preserving national credit as shown in your telegram despatched 27th ultimo, we feel obliged to appeal to you for the maintenance of the established priority of internal loans, all increased customs receipts be set aside for internal loan reserves, Sir Francis Aglen be the custodian with full power to draw on same as acknowledged 1921, so that he will have a free hand to act for the benefit of bondholders and community at large.

"Payments from Salt Revenue and Ministry of Communications should also be resumed as originally arranged 1921. We believe that anything short of these will invite intervention from foreign creditors and will put our national credit at stake.

"The Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce,
"The Shanghai General Bankers Association,
"The Shanghai General Native Bankers Association."

RAIL CHIEF HELD

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Feb. 3.—The Director of the Szechuen Railway Company, Mr. Kao Pei-shuen, has been arrested in Hankow by the Chinese authorities on the charge of embezzlement of the Company's funds. The arrest was made at the request of the Szechuen authorities and the leading Szechuenese gentry in Hankow.

Japanese Issue New Regulation To Bar Chinese

Announcement has been made by steamship companies that all Chinese laborers who board ships for Japan at Shanghai shall buy a return ticket besides paying the ordinary fare, and must each bring with him at least Yen 30 in cash, in conformity with orders issued by the Japanese government.

After landing in Japan, a Chinese workman must secure one of his nationals residing in Japan for a guarantor. If the latter is found to be unsatisfactory by the Japanese authorities, the immigrant will be ordered to return to Shanghai by the same steamer with the return ticket he has purchased when he first boards; while if the guarantor proves satisfactory to the Japanese government, the workman will be permitted to remain, and the fare of his return ticket will be refunded.

Police Recover Diamond Stolen From Bazaar

A diamond which was stolen by a resourceful purchaser who visited the Central Bazaar on Saturday has been recovered by the Police from a pawn shop in Haining Road, where it had been disposed of for $1,000. It was valued at $3,800.

A Chinese entered the shop and asked to see some diamonds. He inspected the most valuable one, and decided to go as far as the door where there was an abundance of light for him to judge it. In a few moments he had disappeared with the diamond.

He has not been traced.

Pengkalan Durian Estate

IN VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION

A meeting of Shareholders in the Pengkalan Durian Estate, Limited (in Voluntary Liquidation) was held at No. 1 The Bund at 11:30 a.m. yesterday for the purpose of receiving the Liquidator's report.

Mr. A. E. Stewart, the liquidator, presided and after reading the Notice convening the meeting, said:

"Gentlemen.—This meeting of Shareholders is called in conformity with Section 187 (2) of the Companies Ordinances, Hongkong, in order that I may lay before you an account of my acts and dealings and the conduct of the winding up since the date of liquidation.

"As you are aware the Company went into Voluntary Liquidation on August 12, 1921; at the Meeting held on August 12, 1922, I informed you of what had been done during the preceding year.

"There is practically nothing further for me to tell you. Of the 60,000 Shares to be issued in exchange for the old shares I have issued 59,558 shares, and in accordance with the sanction of the Directors of the new Company the balance, of 442 Shares, has been lodged with the Secretaries and General Managers, Messrs. J. P. Bisset and Co., to be issued to the Shareholders in the old Company as and when applied for in exchange for the old Company's share certificates. These shares have presumably changed hands (without any transfer being registered) and it is impossible to ascertain the present holders.

"There are no accounts to be submitted as all liabilities of the old Company were defrayed, as per agreement, by the new Company. The assets were also taken over by the new Company and therefore no actual property has come into my possession.

"That is all I have to say, Gentlemen. If any Shareholder has any questions to ask, I shall be glad to answer them to the best of my ability."

No questions being asked the meeting then terminated.

Has It Been Effected?

(Contributed)

LAST November, when several foreign captives were held as hostages by Honan bandits, General Chin Yun-ao was appointed Bandit Suppression Commander and put in charge of the work of securing the release of the captives. The release of all the foreign captives has since been effected. But now comes the report, published by a number of Chinese papers, that General Chin has notified High Inspecting Commissioner Tsao Kun that the bandits have been suppressed and that he therefore requests that his post as Bandit Suppression Commander be abolished. The same papers report that the request has been granted, and also intimate that General Chin and his officers have been rewarded for their services.

But what about it? Have the bandits actually been suppressed?

Some four thousand of them have been "suppressed" by being received into the National Army, and have now as good and loyal soldiers been entrusted with the task of maintaining law and order and protecting the people in the very regions they raided, and where as bandits they had their headquarters. And if we are to believe the reports we hear, they have not wholly laid aside their former practices, but are even now prone to levy on the already impoverished people and to help themselves to things they want.

One Shanghai newspaper, which among others brings the report above referred to, also gives a little information about the brigand situation. It mentions several places in northern Honan where brigand bands are still carrying on their nefarious work. It also mentions the following districts as overrun by brigand gangs numbering each from 300 to 700 men: Juning, Sinyang, Tungpeh, Pehyang, Piyuan (Tanghsien), Siayeh and Tengchow.

This report is corroborated by information received from other sources. Thus the city of Tanghsien in southwestern Honan was recently threatened by a force of a thousand brigands. As there were only a hundred soldiers in the city, the citizens had to plead for terms and only escaped looting by the payment of $40,000. A large village in the same district is reported to have incurred the wrath of the brigands. In consequence orders were given to shoot men, club the children, and crowd the women into a room and burn them to death. This order is reported to have been ruthlessly carried out. In another neighboring district 120 villages are reported to have been burned and 230 persons killed.

Another report comes from one of the largest cities in Southeastern Honan. According to this report, while the city itself is quiet, the country is full of brigands. They are said to operate at will, and apparently no military action against them is taken beyond the sending of a few troops to any place after the brigands have left. No effort is made to follow them up or to raid their dens, although these are well known. Speaking of the situation in general our informant states that it is "threatening and ugly," and that his impression is, that the best informed Chinese fear that "anything may happen in the near future."

Still another report comes from a city in southwestern Honan. "Conditions in this part of Honan are not as bad as further north. I want to state, however, that we do not dare to travel in the district on account of the bandit activities. People are held up and robbed not far from the city, even in broad daylight."

A Kaifeng paper of January 28 reports that near Taikanghsien some time ago bandits carried off a man by the name of Chang Yufeng and demanded a ransom of $200. This sum not being forthcoming, the man was brutally cut across the face and then carried to his house, where a few days later he died as a result of his wounds.

Such are the conditions. And yet the officials concerned are asking rewards from the Government on the ground that the bandits have been suppressed and normal conditions restored.

Does it not all add to the already abundant proof that China's greatest curse at the present time are her worse than useless militarists and soldiers? Not only are they bringing the Government to the verge of bankruptcy by consuming some eighty percent of the national revenues, but so far from affording the country protection and security, they are themselves the very ones who make life a continuous nightmare to the common people. No wonder China's merchants and educators are making disbandment the first objective in their campaign for the salvation of the country. May they succeed in soon arousing public opinion to such an extent that the Government will not dare but accede to their demands, and launch concrete measures for disbandment.

In this connection it may not be amiss to call attention to the fact that there is at least one peaceful interior province in China, one province in which brigandage is unknown, and which is not exploited by the militarists. This province is Shansi. Here Yen Hsishan has been Governor ever since the inauguration of the Republic, and has given the Province what is in many ways a good and progressive administration. He is gradually introducing a Village Military System which it is hoped will still further benefit the province. Instead of having military parasites from other provinces come to exploit the people, Governor Yen's plan is to organise militia companies for local protection. The chief advantages of the plan as he himself has set them forth, are: First, that it is easy to maintain peace and repel outside invaders, as the village soldiers naturally try their best to protect their own homes; and, secondly, it eliminates the danger of invading neighboring provinces, as these soldiers are ordinary people with a proper occupation and naturally do not care to sacrifice their peaceful living for the sake of a few ambitious militarists.

If the present soldiers could be disbanded and Governor Yen's system introduced in all the provinces, the people of China would soon be in position to solve some of their other pressing problems.

At morn the river is a mother, who Unto her bosom claps a dreaming child—
The infant sky. How warmly pink and new
His sunrise—softness shimmers undefiled
Against her gray maturity! They rest
At peace with time, and one another—he Clutching with timid fingers at her breast,
And she at dreams of what he is to be.
Not so at night: A virgin maid, she moves
In white and silver, slipping through the trees
To keep a midnight tryst with him she loves;
And as he bends above her lips to seize
Love's yielding kiss, where white star ripples start
She holds his burning words unt her heart.

TSINING

During the first months of nineteen hundred and twenty-two famine prevailed in a large part of the country surrounding Tsining and a number of famine relief workers from other places came here to assist in the distribution of relief.

In order to provide this relief without further pauperising the people, means were sought by which the able-bodied might be given opportunity to earn this money they received. This resulted in the repairing of bad breaks in the banks of the Grand Canal, in the building of a much-needed bridge across the canal and in the making of an auto road between Tsining and Tsaochowfu, another thriving business center. The bridge will be in, and the road will connect up with, the foreign concession, which it is expected will be begun here within the next few years.

As a preparation for the starting of this concession two offices have been opened, one inside the South Gate—the other inside the East Gate and those employed in these offices are working on the location of boundaries, the making of maps of the site and are trying to procure funds for it.

Tsining city is well located as a commercial center, as it is situated on the Grand Canal and is connected with the Tientsin and Pukow R. R. by a branch line. It is therefore a flourishing business place. The increased variety of foreign merchandise offered for sale in its stores and the erection of many new buildings testify to its commercial progress.

The Flour Mill Co., which erected a four-storey mill in the Southeast suburb a few years ago installed a larger engine and built a fine new warehouse near the R. R. Station for storing the many sacks of flour that they ship to other markets.

The Electric Light Co. in order to meet the ever-increasing demands for electric lights replaced their old machinery by new and more powerful machinery.

Progress has also been noted along the lines of sanitation. During the summer a sprinkling-cart was in constant use on the streets and further efforts to improve the sanitary conditions were made later under the direction of the county official, who employed men to go about the streets with a cart, picking up the refuse.

While the model prison is not a reform having its inception in nineteen twenty-two, it is worthy of mention in this article. Modern methods of treating prisoners are employed. They live and work amid clean and cheerful surroundings—their dormitories are spotlessly clean and comfortable looking and the yards and the rooms in which they work made attractive by the use of plants. The prisoners spend their working hours at carpentering, printing gardening, etc., and they learn to do their work well.

The patriotic spirit, which was kindled a few years ago among the student class and which led to their taking an active part, two or three years ago, in the boycotting of Japanese goods, caused a number of the Tsining students to direct their efforts to the raising of money for the purchase of the Tsinan-Tsingtau R. R. The initiative in this was taken by the Presbyterian Mission boys' school, when on the nights of October tenth and eleventh they gave a play, the proceeds of which they contributed to the purchase of the R. R. Later the Government Middle School and the Industrial School united in giving a five nights' entertainment, for the same object.

The leading officials and a number of the prominent business men helped organise a Reform Society and have taken an active part in carrying it on. The object of this Society is to combat such evils as footbinding and gambling and the use of wine and tobacco in their various forms.

The officials have also to their credit the organization of a Protective Society, which is intended to afford protection against the bandits, who have been unusually numerous and bold since early fall.

The increased and increasing interest taken in education was evidenced by the large number who sought admission to the different schools. Some—yes, a large number of—applicants were turned away because of insufficent accommodations.

Following the famine relief work of nineteen-twenty-one about six hundred people, in one of the affected districts, became inquirers and sought admission to the church. Many of them proved sincere and were later received as church members.

A very interesting incident, that shows the impression that Christianity has made on even some of the bandits, came to our notice recently. An elder in one of the country churches was taken by the bandits. His son, a nurse in the Presbyterian Mission hospital, went home, intending to ask the robbers to permit him to take his father's place as their captive. On arriving at the bandit chief's abode, he was asked by that gentleman what his occupation was. On his replying that he was a nurse in the mission hospital the chief said "Oh that is a good place to work." He treated the young man with a good deal of consideration and released his father that day, although the ransom agreed upon—two or three hundred pairs of wadded shoes—had not yet been procured.

Foreigners living in a city of such a progressive spirit as Tsining cannot but anticipate the time, when they may be among those, who by means of a radio outfit, will be enabled to enjoy the concerts and other good things broadcasted by THE CHINA PRESS.

you have doubtless received, but if it lends even the smallest bit of encouragement to the fine work you are doing, I shall be glad."

This sentence is part of a letter received by a man who is trying to do his bit toward making humanity see life in a better light, to add a little encouragement to those who are having a hard struggle, to point out to those who are selfish, the true spirit which should actuate them in their daily lives.

The man who wrote the foregoing has the right idea in expressing words of encouragement and commendation to those who are trying to do something worthy, whether the man be big or little in world's affairs.

Some of us are too thoughtless to compliment the person who does something praiseworthy, others are too envious to do so, and certain others are so self-centered that they cannot see anything commendable in anything in which they have no part.

If more bouquets were given to the living and fewer wreaths to the dead the world would be a happier place to live.

Electricity In Human Action

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest

I dislike to say anything that may encourage theorising on a basis of insufficient or imperfect knowledge, and particularly when the magic word "electricity" is involved, the talisman of so many fakers. But the intrinsic interest of the uncommon incident decribed below warrants its broadcasting. If readers draw extravagant inferences from it, experience will eventually correct them.

My source of information is a letter in "Science" from H. E. Jaques, of the Iowa Wesleyan College, and I cannot present the facts more succinctly than they are stated in the letter. The incident occurred during a basketball tournament in the gymnasium of that college.

"While the game was in progress between the Wayland and Ft. Madison teams, Saturday evening, March 11, 1922," says the letter, "two players in pursuit of the ball came together in the southeast corner of the court after a fast run of almost half way down the length of the floor. A deep yellow spark was discharged between their bodies, the flash of which was plainly visible to spectators in the top row of the balcony in the northwest corner of the gymnasium, over one hundred feet distant.

"This could be no illusion, as it was witnessed by over a dozen persons, who made exclamation of the fact almost simultaneously. The spark appeared to be emitted at about knee height. Both players had on rubber athletic shoes, which would be nonconductors, and wore woolen shirts and cotton flappers. That this was visible in a well-lighted room makes the phenomenon all the more remarkable."

Nothing is said in the letter as to any impression that the colliding players may have had from the discharge. Possibly in the absorption and excitement of the play they did not notice what had occurred. But so strong a spark must surely have produced a shock that would have been very noticeable to a person who was not in violent action at the moment.

It is, of course, no news that electric charges may accumulate upon the human body and be discharged from it, but ordinarily their exhibition requires carefully selected conditions, and many precautions, while the effects are much less conspicuous than seems to have been the case in this instance.

Popular experiments with static electricity are less common than they were when houses were almost universally illuminated with gas, for then one often saw a gas-jet lighted by a spark from the finger of a person who had preliminarily crossed the parlor floor with a swift rubbing of dry shoe-soles on a dry woollen carpet.

Such sparks are capable of giving a distinct shock and producing a sharp local pain like a needle-prick. If the electric charge derived from friction and accumulated by the insulation of the body reaches a considerable intensity the shock of discharge may have a very decided physical effect.

In the case of the players, insulated by rubber shoes and deriving a frictional charge from rapid running over a dry floor, the cause of the discharge that took place between them upon their coming together would seem to have been that their bodies were at different potentials, and upon meeting equilibrium was established by way of the spark. Since both were insulated from the ground by their rubber shoes the case differed from that of the spark produced by a charged person touching the tip of a gas jet in connection with the ground.

One might, on the basis of such facts, speculate on the possible part played by electricity in all physical encounters where the accumulation of electric charges is a possible result of the violent activity of the contestants. Suppose a dry football field with the opposing players shod with rubber—how much accidental advantage could one of the teams be supposed to derive from favoring electrical conditions?

Would the players having the greatest capacity for accumulating electricity become the lions of the field, before whose charges the weaker would go down paralysed? But to picture football players as animated electrical condensers, or Leyden jars on legs, is just the sort of overpressed theorising that I began by decrying.

Upward, Step By Step

BY S. E. KISER

Always upward, always onward, farther daily from the cave;
Man has ceased to be a savage, he may yet avoid the grave;
He has taken on refinement, and begins to use his brain;
He has turned from filthy habits,
and endeavors to be clean,
But he suddenly relapses to his wild and primal state,
And goes out for bloody vengeance when another lures his mate.

He was once a crawling creature covered, probably, with slime,
But ambition stirred within him;
he has learned to be sublime;
He has linked the seas, and driven lengthy tunnels through the hills,
He outflies the soaring eagle, and is leaving off his ills;
He has finally grown god-like; he's a wonder, he is great,
But he bids farewell to reason when another lures his mate.

Woman, too, has been advancing;
she is wonderful and sweet;
She has taught man to be decent;
she has made his joys complete;
She has tamed him and refined him; she has coaxed him to be kind;
She has ceased to sigh for baubles,
and is broadening her mind,
But she suddenly relapses, as a woman only can,
And wants vengeance that is bloody
when another steals her man.

She's as lovely as an angel; by her beauty and her grace
She imparts man's inspiration—makes the world a better place;
She is tender, she is patient; she is glorious and pure;
She has plumbed the depths of reason; man may doubt, but she is sure;
Far across the misty ages lies the point where she began,
But she's back there in an instant
when another steals her man.
